New Responsibilities

Diplomatic World Role For Canada

By Ross Munro

OTTAWA, Sept. 13. — (CP) — Formally announcing Canada's candidacy for membership on the Security Council of the United Nations, External Affairs Minister Louis St. Laurent said last night that he realized that if we are elected the people of Canada will be confronted with new and onerous responsibilities.

He said that "we also realize that we shall have the weaknesses and difficulties from which the United Nations suffers brought home to us in an urgent and direct manner that will test to the utmost our confidence in that organization."

Speaking to the Ottawa branch of the United Nations Association in Canada on the eve of his departure for New York as head of the Canadian delegation to the second session of the UN General Assembly, he emphasized that election to the 11-member security council would move Canada into the big-time diplomatic arena.

"WE SHALL BE FORCED, AS NEVER before in Canada in times of peace, to make decisions on major questions of policy arising from situations which exist far from our shores and which, once they do, may be directly affected."

Mr. St. Laurent said Canada would become involved directly in the Balkan dispute and the Indonesian problem.

Iran Concessions To Russia Seen

By Edward V. Roberts

LONDON, Sept. 13. — (RUP) — Diplomatic observers said today that sooner or later Iran would have to make concessions to Russia, and economic concessions were to be preferred over political ones.

It was taken for granted in London that in the long run Iran could not afford an unfriendly attitude toward Russia. The observations were in connection with a report that the British envoy in Iran had urged the government to open the door open for further discussions with Russia in the near future.

British-Iranian oil agreement. George V. Allen, U.S. ambassador to Tehran, assured Iran Thursday night that the world would be in a position to meet the oil needs of the United States in relation to any aggressive foreign demands for oil concessions.

Military Research Aids Civilian Life

By Ross Munro

OTTAWA, Sept. 13. — (CP) — The real object of military scientific research is to prevent another war, Sir Henry Dalglish, chairman of the Canadian War Relocation Commission, said in an interview here Friday in which he pointed out the contributions this type of research is making to civilian life.

FOR EXAMPLE, research into bacteriological warfare is going to result in great benefits to humanity and for this reason alone, said Sir Henry, who is beginning a tour of Canada with three other top British defence scientists during the tour they will visit the Canadian energy development at Chalk River, Ont.

He said that the right place to carry out experimental work in

Fear Clash Between Fascists, Communists

By Michael O'Mara

LONDON, Sept. 13. — (CP) — Police today girded for what looms as a fifth consecutive Sunday night disturbance in London's densely populated East End, where avowed Fascists and members of the Communist party have traded blows following political meetings in the Bethnal Green area.

THE GROWTH of Fascism, strongly marked by anti-Semitism, is plainly visible in London, where the defunct pro-war Union of British Fascists formerly met by Sir Oswald Mosley appeared in speeches delivered by the Leaders of the League of Nations and Women during the last four Sunday nights.

"I am a Fascist and I am proud of it," shouted one hanger-on of the League of Nations, who went on to defend the Nazi philosophy of society and attacked Jews in a manner reminiscent of the back streets of Berlin.

"WE WANT MOSLEY," cried members of the League, while counter-cries rose from various groups, principally anti-Nazi and generally on the outskirts of the

More Workers Leave Jobs

Meat Famine Danger Growing in Strike

By The Canadian Press

Every plant operated by Canada's "big three" of the packinghouse industry may be shut down by tonight, making 14,000 workers idle, cutting off much of the domestic supply of meat and threatening to cripple overseas meat shipments.

THAT WAS THE prospect unless an 11-hour settlement had been reached by tonight, making for the higher wages called by the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA) to all the plants of Canada Packers, Burns and Company and Swift Canadian.

Some 3,500 employees of the latter two firms still were operating for more than two weeks but up to late last night some plants of the two firms still were operating.

The numbers of 11,000 workers on strike last night.

The union seeks a wage boost of 10 cents an hour, and to bring the basic hourly rate to 93 cents, and has suggested federal intervention to force the issue.

Dental Trade Association

Dominion Government To Prosecute Combine

OTTAWA, Sept. 13. — (CP) — The federal government has decided to prosecute the Canadian Dental Trade Association for an alleged combine in the distribution and sale of dental supplies across the Dominion, government sources disclosed today.

THE PUBLIC INTEREST for several years under a system which fixes and controls the fees that dentists can charge for their services, has been a subject of public concern. It is possible that the Ontario government may co-operate with the federal authorities.

The combine was disclosed 18 days ago in a report of F. A. Greger, commissioner of combined investigation, which said members of the CDTA had "operated against the public interest."

U.K. Asks Census Of World Troops

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. — (AP) — An immediate world-wide census of troops was requested yesterday in a surprise proposal made on the year-old United Nations Commission for Conventional Armaments by Sir Alexander Cadogan as delegates were gathering for the opening of the 53rd general assembly at Flushing Meadows.

Britain's new surprise package on disarmament was introduced as a temporary fix, but it appeared headed toward vigorous discussion.

Cadogan pressed specifically that the committee of the United Nations should ask all the nations to submit information on their present total, man-made arms.

He also suggested asking each nation to submit facilities it would offer the UN for verification of submitted figures.

Battle for Italy Fought by Reds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. — (AP) — Diplomatic officials reported last night that Italian Communist believed to be working under a Moscow time table have launched their long-awaited "battle for Italy" and that the crisis is outrunning American plans for helping the Italian people. These authorities said the Italian Communist movement is now a powerful force in Italy and even in Italian quarters in Washington the possibility of armed conflict.

High state department and other American officials are exploring every possible means of throwing United States assistance to the present, non-Communist forces governing Italy in the hope of averting that conflict for the time being.

Applies for Loan Instead

Starts to Rob Bank, Then Changes Mind

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 13.—(BUP)—A reluctant gunman who said he was Louis Franks of Uniontown, Pa., said today he didn't want to shoot anybody, so he changed his mind midway in holding up the Riverside Bank and applied for a loan instead. Police nabbed him while he was filling out the papers.

He was held today on an open charge.

Franks entered the Riverside Bank yesterday and said he wanted to open a savings account. Anna Coates, 24, a clerk, took the money and the bank deposit. He drew a pistol from his pocket.

"Give me a stack of $20's," he said.

"I DON'T THINK I understand your language," she said.

A customer came in. Franks ordered him into a corner. Miss Coates took the opportunity to get out of her predicament. She called Raymond Ringdahl, the bank's chief clerk.

Ringdahl said today he decided to approach the gunman calmly and call the police. He said he walked up and asked Franks, "Can I help you?"

Franks said he wanted the stack of $20 bills. Ringdahl said he didn't have any.

"Why do you want to rob a bank?" Ringdahl asked.

"I need some money, and I figure a bank is the place to get it," said the gunman.

"You don't want to rob a bank?" Ringdahl asked.

"No, I want to borrow $1,000," he said.

Franks put down his gun. "In that case, I'd like to borrow $1,000," he said.

"I think we can fix that up," Ringdahl said. The police arrived quicker than he had expected and took Franks away. He offered no resistance.

He didn't remember what he said about while I had him filling out the application," Ringdahl said.

"Just about everything," Ringdahl said. He said it was awful, but, I said yes, it was. Offered him a cigarette. He seemed nervous, but he didn't have a thing on me. I was scared stiff."

Franks' $10 was still on deposit to his account today.

"Forgotten" Loan Paid

MIDICINE HAT, Alta., Sept. 13.—(BUP)—The mainman played Santa Claus today to a Medicine Hat grocer—when John Todd opened his mail he received a cheque for $80 repaying an all-but-forgotten loan made 44 years ago.

An accompanying note read: "remember the $80 you loaned me back in 1923? Well here it is plus some interest, all I can afford. The debt has been bothering me lately so I must be getting near the end of the road."

Mr. Todd recalled the young cowboy he befriended with the substantial grubstake. The cheque travelled a long distance to reach its destination.

"With all my loans would come home to roost like that one," observed Mr. Todd.

Islands Menaced by Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 13.—(BUP)—A hurricane razing across the Caribbean with winds of 140 miles an hour menaced isolated islands today in the Dutch Antilles.

The centre of the 26-mile wide storm, according to a 5 a.m. EST advisory from the weather bureau, was 260 miles north-northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico and 300 miles from Miami.

The force of the storm, fifth of this season but first of the danger variety, swirled over an area 120 miles long.

Increasing in fury, the gigantic blow was travelling northward at a speed of 18 to 20 miles per hour. Gales swirled outward from its centre and the weather bureau said an increase in the area of the violent winds was expected during the next 24 hours. However, the hurricane was flailing its fury at the Atlantic waters and could expend its force at the open waters without striking the still distant U.S. mainland.

CBC Plans Resume Service to Russia

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Canada will resume as quickly as possible daily short-wave broadcasts to Soviet Russia, its Dillworth general supervisor of international service for CBC at Montreal, said here yesterday.

The broadcasts were halted five months ago because of lack of CBC personnel able to handle them. Speaking at a Canadian Club luncheon, Mr. Dillworth said that there was no evidence to indicate that the Soviet government forbids its people to listen to foreign broadcasts.

"The purpose of our service is to paint a simple, honest, true picture of life in Canada, as a contribution to real international understanding," he said.

CBC Governors Meet Next Week

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—(CP)—The board of governors of the CBC will meet in Calgary next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for the first time since the Commons committee on radio made its report at the last session of Parliament.

A. D. Dunt, chairman of the board, said one of the main things to be decided is whether future meetings of the board will be held in public. In the past, the board has met behind closed doors, but the committee recommended that the meetings be held in public when matters of public interest are at stake.

The recommendation came after the Canadian Association of Broadcasters urged that an "independent" body, similar to the Board of Transport Commissioners, be established to deal publicly on matters affecting radio.

The committee also recommended that, in view of the profile being made by private stations, the license fees for the operation of such stations might be increased.

Mr. Dunt said the matter of fees was one that fell under the jurisdiction of the transport department and would not be discussed by the board of governors.

Deputy Minister Completes Studies

CALGARY, Sept. 13.—(CP)—After almost two months' intense inspection and research of the west and far north to study varied problems governed by his department, Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, M.A., Ph.D., FRIS, deputy minister of Mines and Resources, is on his way back to Ottawa with a detailed knowledge of what his position entails.

Dr. Keenleyside became deputy minister and commissioner of the Northwest Territories in March, succeeding Dr. Charles Camell.

Prior to his appointment he had been consultant, department of the secretary of state for external affairs, and also Canadian ambassador to Mexico.

Referring to the problems of Indian affairs he said that the government desired to make the Indian tribes an integral part of the Canadian population with no distinctions. "How soon that can be achieved is a question of time and district management."

Faces Two Charges Of Manslaughter

TABER, Alta., Sept. 13.—(CP)—Roy Henry Myrsk, 21-year-old Purple Springs laborer, was committed for trial in Lethbridge on a charge of double manslaughter following the admission of his preliminary hearing here Friday.

He is to be held in custody at the Lethbridge provincial jail until the next sittings of a court of competent criminal jurisdiction in Lethbridge. Myrsk will be tried on a charge that on Aug. 5 last he allegedly, by gross negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle, intentionally killed and also James William Sherrington and John A. Friess, who were instantly killed in a highway collision west of Taber.

Money in Flight

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

I have just read the last article written by Lord Keynes. It appeared in the Economic Journal for June, 1946—two months after the British expert died.

If we wonder why Britain is in a crisis, we have only to read Keynes' figuring when he arranged the large loan from the U.S. For Keynes' wrote:

"On the assumption that the International Monetary Fund and to loan out again to the others of else the game must stop.

But what Mr. Bevin did not say was that much of this huge idle gold supply in the U.S. is foreign owned.

Keynes wrote:

"Liquid reserves of foreign countries held in the United States at the end of the war in the shape of ear-marked gold, bank balances, and market securities is of the

Bilateral equilibrium will be achieved between the United Kingdom and the United States if the two countries agree to fulfill that British exports of goods and services to the rest of the world as a whole reach an approximate balance and that America can import goods and services reach an approximate level." ○ ○ ○

THE ABOVE IS just an expert's high falutin' way of saying that both Britain and the United States could go back to the old free-for-all world trade scramble, and that British money could once again be made safely convertible into American money.

Hence July 15, 1947, was fixed as the date after which anybody anywhere could he change his British pounds into U.S. dollars. The timid rich all over the world were just waiting for that. Like panicky passengers on a ship, all rushed to one side of the boat. The British financial ship almost overturned.

MR. BEVIN HAS rightly put his

BOBBY LOCKE
Editor, Bulletin—I see by The Edmonton Bulletin that Bobby Locke is scheduled to play here on Friday, September 19 at Mayfair Country Club. Bobby Locke is terrific and I urge Edmontonians to be certain to see this man's golfing skill—he's the Paganini of golf in my estimation.

Your correspondent, here also for too short a stay, witnessed Locke's golfing display at Niakwa, Winnipeg last month and in my humble opinion, Locke has everything it takes to beat Sam Snead, Hogan and Vines. He has the right attitude, he continues to take the other side of the argument. It is probable that we can uncover some reasons why the above is the case.

Social Credit declines because the conditions under which it arose have passed away. It arose like a will-o-the-wisp dancing over a quagmire. The deflation period of the hungry thirties has passed, and Social Credit speakers no longer

Successful efforts through their Concert Under the Stars in the past have been in raising funds for these thoughtful musical programs which seem somehow to suggest that as a city we are becoming "grown up." They deserve complete public support.

Two things might be mentioned here. First, we think add to the lasting pleasure of their audience is the paucity of the arduities a house and lots of things but a poor neighbor dug his foundation a year or more ago but for a long time he couldn't get the cement, then he got the foundation in, and was happy to get the cement etc.

Now, we have the tickets for the China. It takes 30,000 of their tickets to make a dollar. Their government there ships "Social Credit" in bales to drought stricken areas but the people die of starvation just the same as if the Chinese government ment kept its sales of "Social Credit" at home. It is not national or "basic" "dividends" or "Social Credit" paper but rice which will keep the people of China from starving.

And so it is also in Canada. Just before the war ended, we were

GRATEFUL
Editor, Bulletin—On behalf of Edmonton Home for ex-servicemen's children, we, the members of the board would like to thank the Edmonton Public for their very generous response to our tag day aid of the home.

We, also would like to thank the "agers" and all those who were generous in their donations of: coats, hats, mitts, shoes, socks, underwear, children's clothing etc., not less, that we want.

There are many farmers, doctors, dentists, and many others who could quit work and make the shortage of help still worse.

HOME OWNER
 Editor, Bulletin—I am just another home owner trying to get possession of my own property. I already own, while our present management would rather protect a lazy tenant—why, I can't figure out. All my earthly belongings are crowded into one small room—furniture in storage, and my brother is sleeping in someone's basement. When I

See Early End Lumber Shortage
VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—(CP)—
As early end of lumber shortage was forecast here yesterday with reports that many mills, now getting all the logs they need, are adding extra shifts. In some cases the extra shifts will mean nearly double mill production. Possibly within a few weeks there will be a sharp upswing in the amount of all grades of lumber available for housing and general purposes.
A spokesman for lumber interests said here yesterday.

Civic Employees Accept Wage Offer

The spirit of compromise continues in negotiations between civic unions and the city commissioners, and Friday night the membership of two unions agreed in principle to accept the recent wage offer made them by the commissioners.

The unions—the Police Association and Civic Union No. 32—agreed to accept the same wage increases granted to workers of the transit system.

This offer will give the workers a bonus of $2.50 for the period Jan. 1 to June 30, and a nine cents an hour increase for the period June 1 to Dec. 31, 1947, with the basic wage rate established for 1947 by the nine cents increase to be the wage rate for 1948.

Two other unions, the transit workers and Civic Union No. 32 accepted these terms previously. There now remains to be settled the wage demands of the Firefighters Union, and of certain electrical workers.

For Mr. Hunter's "foresight in planning and establishing the Northwest passage to the Orient." Presentation of the award was made by proxy in USAAP Far East Air Force Headquarters in Tokyo on behalf of General Douglas MacArthur to Don J. King, the airline's vice-president in charge of the Orient Region.

Hunter then joins an illustrious company of recipients which includes Lt.-Gen. James H. Doolittle, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and Maj.-Gen. Albert F. Heegenberger, commanding general of the USAAF First Air Division.

Picobac is the pick of the Burley crop, grown in sunny southern Ontario, where climate and soil are the secret ingredients for a mild, cool, satisfying smoke.

PAIR REPORT Mackinnon Leaving On Africa Mission

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—(CP)—The "family" bonds that link Canada and South Africa can be made "stronger still by ties of trade," Trade Minister Mackinnon said last night in a broadcast message beamed to South Africa on the eve of his departure for that dominion with an official trade mission.

Speaking over national service, Mr. Mackinnon said one of the purposes of the mission is "to discover how we ourselves can be a better customer of yours and how Canada can purchase more from those countries with which we trade."

Observing that the mission also will visit the Belgian Congo, French Equatorial Africa, Rhodesia, Egypt, Greece, Italy and Portugal, he said: "To the people of those countries to whom I am now speaking I wish to emphasize how keenly I am looking forward to our visit and to the opportunity of carrying to you the greetings of our Canadian government and people."

Send Serum Help Combat Cholera

NEW DELHI, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The governments of Pakistan and India, joining in a common bid against cholera, sent serum today to key points on both sides of the border to combat the deadly disease, threatening to spread epidemic proportions in the Pakistan coastal city of Karachi.

Military authorities said that so far most cases had been reported in Pakistan's part of the Punjab but that some instances also had been noted on the Indian side of the border, where inoculations were being given to troops and to refugees from communal riots.

Pakistan refugee camps have been hit hard by the scourge. Meanwhile evacuation of refugees from Pakistan to India continued. In the last week more than 10,000 persons have been transported by rail and road, authorities said.

A military organization has been set up to supervise the evacuation and the Indian government said that next week the organization planned to march convoys under troop escort.

Communal clashes had tapered off considerably with only a few scattered clashes reported in Delhi and the Punjab yesterday.

Envoy Trying Oust Squatters With Music

By LARRY ALLEN
WARSAW, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Ambassador Stanton Griffiths of the United States is trying to evict squatters with music.

He has four powerful radios crying night and day, blaring into the ears of 10 women, one man, one cat and one dog who have occupied an embassy residence for two years.

Perhaps the noise will force them out.

Radio has been placed in rooms next to the squatters' quarters. The embassy needs the additional space.

Griffiths said he had made a first money offer to the squatters to leave and promised to assist them in finding other quarters, but to no avail.

Fail to Settle Strike in South

MEDAN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Government intervention to mediate the 23-day-old strike of 250 Medan Poteries Ltd. workers ended in failure Friday night after two days discussion between the two parties to the dispute and David Mathieson, industrial relations board member. Mr. Mathieson left Medan late for Medan last night to report failure to break the deadlock to the minister, Hon. C. E. Gerhart.

The conciliator sought a mass meeting of the strikers to discuss the situation but this was denied by union directors.

3 South Miners Hurt in Blast

CALGARY, Sept. 12.—(CP)—Injured Thursday afternoon when buried against an overhead road by an accidental dynamite explosion in the Mannix strip mine five miles north of Blairmore, two miners were still in serious condition in hospital here last night.

A third man who was less seriously injured in the explosion was in Blairmore hospital.

In the Calgary hospital were Charles Sepulchre, Blairmore, who suffered severe burns over his whole body and may lose the sight of both eyes. He also received a fractured leg and one leg and one leg and extensive abrasions.

Charles Mathewson, Blairmore, who sustained less serious injuries to his eye and one leg. Wes McMaster, the third miner, escaped with arm injuries and officials said still more civilians were being sought.

The Competition's Fierce!

There wasn't much of him, but "Cookie" a pup taken by Anthony Carzo to the United Nations in New York, registered a loud protest about the size of placid "Jimmy," a horse taken by Peter Spators. "Cookie" raised such a howl the judges were forced to pay some attention to him and after looking him over figured he was worth a "rating" anyway, and everybody went home the best of friends.

Meat Famine

provinces of their jurisdiction over labor matters.

A CONCILIATION overture by the Ontario labor department appeared doomed to rejection by the union because its formula called for strikers to return to work while a conciliator or arbitrator discussed differences.

In Montreal it was reported on good authority that the union had refused to consider conciliation efforts by the Quebec government. Strikers in the west had before them a statement by Acting Premier C. M. Fines, of Saskatchewan, that the Saskatchewan government might take control of strike-bound plants in that province.

Meanwhile reports from many parts of the country indicated that the strike would have other disruptive effects than causing a meat famine and depriving farmers of a market at a time when livestock was ready for the slaughterhouse.

TORONTO'S ICE SHORTAGE Threatened to become more acute

if the union called out its members from two ice plants operated by the packinghouse workers and from Vancouver came a prediction that bakeries might be forced to close when their present supply of shortening ran out.

Windsor, Ont. had a problem all its own. Shoppers lined across the border from neighboring Detroit in unusually large numbers, many buying as much as $5 worth of meat each. Detroiters have for months made market-day visits to Windsor stores to take advantage of lower prices but they have been making the crossing more frequently since the shortage became known.

In Toronto, where some 2,800 workers are on strike, there was little hope that small district packinghouses would be able to ease the impending ice shortage. The most optimistic guess in Toronto was that supplies might last until next Wednesday.

AS HOUSEWIVES dug out eggs, macaroni, poultry and fish recipes in preparation for the meatless days ahead, the Dominion bureau of statistics in Ottawa reported one lumpy situation—stocks of frozen fish are increasing. At Sept. 1 the total was $9,822.19 pounds, 723¢, 2¢4 more than at Aug. 1.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—(CP)—Strike headquarters of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA) said last night that 10,770 members now are on strike across Canada.

Toronto, 2,800; Winnipeg and St. Boniface, Man., 2,000; Montreal, 1,600; Edmonton, 1,300; Calgary, 750; Kitchener, Ont., 450; Moose Jaw, Sask., 350; Shornum, N.B., 200; Hull, Que., 200; New Westminster, B.C., 200; Peterborough, Ont., 200; Vancouver, 130; and Charlottetown, 70.

REGINA, Sept. 12.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister I. C. Nallet said today that today's wage demands of striking packinghouse workers are just and reasonable, but the halting of cattle shipments would be a serious hardship on farmers.

TWO OTHER ministers in Saskatchewan's C.P.F. government had the federal action to end the strike and one of them, Acting Premier C. M. Fines, said yesterday that province might take control of strike-bound plants in Saskatchewan.

He said the province waived its jurisdictional right to conciliation if the federal government took no action and we find ourselves in a position where people are unable to obtain meat. The Saskatchewan government would have no alternative but to place a controller in the packing plants until the dispute is settled.

Attorney-General J. W. Corman said there was no legal barrier to the appointment of a federal controller.

MELVILLE, Sask., Sept. 12.—(CP)—Women are making picket lines in front of the South Canadian Company's poultry processing plant here where strikers have been on strike since July 15.

Violinist Sues For Children

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Violinist Stephen Hero filed suit yesterday for a state supreme court judgment awarding him custody of his two children and for an injunction restraining his father-in-law, piano virtuoso Jose Turini, from interfering with this custody.

Hero asserted in his suit that he had reason to believe Turini would make an effort "to remove my daughters from the home of my parents."

The children, Maria Teresa, 16, and Maria Antonia, 8, now are living with Hero's parents here.

Turini recently instituted child-stealing charges against Hero after Hero allegedly had removed the children from Turini's California home. The charges later were dismissed when the Beverly Hills court ruled that a four-year-old order giving Turini custody of the girls was voided by the suicide of their mother in April, 1946.

Doukhorob Home Fired by "Sons"

SHOROGAS, B.C., Sept. 12.—(CP)—A flaming torch, tossed through an attic window, started a fire which destroyed the home of Mike Levakoff in this Doukhorob community, 14 miles west of Neison, late last night. He had been warned that his home would be destroyed by fire and had moved his furniture into the street. Levakoff and a half hour after the officers left, flames burst from the roof.

Inoculate Volunteers Vaccine Against Cold Is Prepared in Texas

By Paul F. Ellis
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(BUP)—A possible vaccine against the common cold was reported today by two Texas scientists who used state farm volunteers as "experimental animals."

The scientists, Drs. Morris Pollard and Coleman D. Caplovitz, of the University of Texas medical branch at Galveston, Tex., prepared the vaccine in inoculating chick embryos and also treated it with penicillin.

REPORTING IN Science, official magazine of the American association for the advancement of science, Drs. Pollard and Caplovitz said that those inoculated with the vaccine failed to develop symptoms of the common cold—even when administered challenging doses of a solution containing the cold virus.

The volunteers were from the sugarland state farm, whose official staff also co-operated in the study. The scientists reported that nasal washings were collected from several cases of common cold infection within 24 hours after the onset of symptoms. These were diluted with rabbit serum and then treated with penicillin sodium.

The solution was then inoculated into the inoculating face-egg. At four-day intervals the fluid was collected and the material was then inoculated into the human volunteers, via the nose.

"THE CLINICAL diagnosis of cold infection in the human volunteers," they reported, "was based on the development of a congested and swollen nasal mucous membrane and sneezing."

"They manifested a feeling of stuffiness. There was no fever and no impairment of appetite."

In one test, six volunteers were administered the fluid. Five developed symptoms of cold. In the next test, these five and five new

Make Efforts Halt Spreading of Disease

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Health authorities were working in southwest Louisiana today in an effort to halt an epidemic of animal sleeping sickness which had spread to the populace with fatal results to two children. The disease, tentatively diagnosed as equine (horse) encephalomyelitis, has killed 2,800 horses and mules in that section.

Washing Machine Strangles Woman

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Nellie Ziegler, 74, was strangled Friday when her dress caught in a washing machine wringer. Police reported she was doing the wash alone in her backyard when her dress became entangled in the wringer shaft and was drawn tight around her neck.

The woman, who had been ill for some time, was found by her neighbors. She was taken to a hospital, but died before she could be revived.

The police are investigating the cause of the accident. They are also looking for other people who may have been affected by the same problem.

Living Rooms to Live In

Plan your living room for living

Most everyone I talk with about their after-the-war-house expresses the desire for a larger living room, with increased livability... a living room that will truly be a gathering place for all members of the family, their guests and friends.

As most people have individual likes and habits, it would seem that this room should be planned to provide for as many personal requirements as possible. Modern living rooms for either a new home or a modernized dwelling must serve more than one purpose for comfort and efficiency. In the small house of today, each room must fulfill as many uses as possible.

People can be awfully ungenerous about books, so here are a few points to check and see if our etiquette lets you down on this score.

We should never ask if we may borrow a book from the owner, many people regard books as sacred possessions, and don't like lending them. If you want to read a book which belongs to someone else, it is best to make the indirect approach by saying "I would like to read this book" and then hope for the best. If the owner doesn't mind lending, he will probably take the hint and offer his book, but if he makes no comment, you are out of luck.

Put a paper or cellophane jacket on a borrowed book to protect its cover. Protect the inside, too, by not spitting or dropping food on it. A beautiful old leather book, but there is something repulsive about one which is smeared with chocolate or blotched with coffee.

DON'T PARK things in books, particularly food. This is a strange human failing, the staff of a large Canadian lending library tells me. Readers mark their books with bits of paper, plastic, squishy biscuits and even dampish lettuce leaves.

Never borrow a book without two weeks' notice if you are returning it. Never, never, never one longer than a month. At least twice a year—spring and fall—housecleaning is a good thing. Look over all your books, things belonging to someone else. Return them! No matter how long you've kept borrowed books send it back, for it will get a big welcome home.

Unless you are the author, it is not wise to write an inscription in the front of a book. If you are writing to inscribe, "To Aunt Mary with love from Joe," write it on a neat square of paper and place it loosely in the front. If Aunt Mary is as sentimental as the plot of a novel, she will treasure it. If she is a practical person, she will discard it. If she is a collector, she will keep it. If she is a reader, she will read it.

Trade the Old One In

The most striking contrast between the house built before the war and the house built today is in the ratio of rooms to square feet. In the old house, many rooms were small and cramped, and many rooms were unused. In the new house, rooms are larger and more functional, and many rooms are unused.

Thousands of the older homes that line the city streets have been replaced by new homes. The new homes are larger and more functional, and many rooms are unused.

Middlesex Cricketer Stirs British Fans

By Michael O'Mara

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Spectators at most cricket matches view the game with monogamous calm but when they cut loose with applause it seems like a winning goal in a Stanley Cup series. Young Dennis Compton of Middlesex, twice touched off such ovations this season.

The first occasion was at London where he equaled Jack Hobbs' record of hitting 16 centuries in a season. Two days later at Hastings broke the record when he had stood for 22 years.

Compton, playing for the South of England against a touring South African team, began his pay-off innings in typical light-hearted fashion, rattling up 96 in an hour and 40 minutes. Then his nerve faltered momentarily and he almost smothered through an over before doing a double through the slips.

AS FANS sat on the edge of their seats nervously daring to breathe, he swept the ball behind him into the boundary and as he went up on the scoreboard bellion broke loose.

The South Africans—who had given nothing away—summed him back. His captain ran from the pavilion to offer congratulations. However, men invaded the field and held up play. He went out on the next ball.

One who kept a First Street snoring goods store now—seemingly his concentration—when he heard the news and returned to a reporter the old record "had stood for two long already."

THE GREAT SURPRISE cricketer was 41 in the "Golden Summer" of 1935 when he put together his 16 three-hundred innings but Compton now the greatest cricketer in the game overtakes Australia's aging Sir Don Bradman, in only 20 and experts forecast many more records from his bat.

Two days just a week later when playing for South of England against R.F. Pelham Warner's eleven at Hastings. He swept past the record aggregate of 2018 runs for a century, established 41 years ago by Tom Howard of Surrey and England.

Compton is fast from the methodical manner of orthodox strokes that many great batsmen have been—can much delight in breaking "the rule" characterizes his play.

COMPTON is perhaps the most popular figure in British sport of the decade. Cricket isn't his only game. As soon as the cricket season ends he will turn out for Arsenal's football division, a soccer star. His golf handicap is 36 but a fair club crumb player and his poker ability in the pavilion has won more half-crown than freemasonry.

Kingsway Schedule
Rain washed out Kingsway fast ball last evening but the Sunday schedule lines up as follows:
2:15 p.m. — Hinkle vs. Calder, in Community League field.

Thirty-Four to Attend Leaf's Early School

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Thirty-two hockey hopefuls get in their preliminary work in St. Catharines next week in their try for National Hockey League team and fortune. Toronto Maple Leafs, Stanley Cup winners last season, announced Friday that 34 players will attend the one-week school which precedes the opening of the regular training camp, but two of them are veterans.

The veterans are goalie Walter (Turk) Broda who was on the team last season and down on points; and defenseman Bob Goldhamer, the hard-tough player who was the most of last season because of an arm injury.

THE LEAFS have invited five coaches, 10 defencemen and 17 tryouts to the school. Top performers will get a chance to try out with the Leafs. Some will be assigned to the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League, the Leafs farm team. Others may wind up with the Toronto Marlboros, Ontario Hockey Association's junior A team which has leaf-schoolers.

One notable candidate is John R. McCormack of Edmonton who ranked as one of the best centers in junior hockey a couple of years ago. He retired last season to study for the priesthood but now he has returned to the hockey world.

OTHERS are Cyril Hook, B. C. hockey star, who was with the Leafs last season, and a Winnipegger who played with the Leafs last season. Others who played with New Haven last season are Earl Ladd, Saskatchewan, who was high scoring defenseman last season with the Leafs; Phil Smith, Edmonton, and (Chicago) George Selkirk, a Winnipeg product.

THEN THERE'S Bob Howard from (London) St. Catharines, who played with the Leafs last season. He was high scoring forward last season with the Leafs. He was high scoring forward last season with the Leafs. He was high scoring forward last season with the Leafs.

Wingers include Harold Branson, last season's top scorer in the minor league, native of Winnipeg but a New Westminster, B.C., hockey player.

Punches. I've had 'em all and will confess that they have their moments. I am not a realtor and enjoy a good sport as well as the rest, but for sheer delight and ecstasy in the region of the tonalities none of them begin to compare with that strange combination of syrup, ice cream and carbonated water skiffle provisioned and compounded by some Master Chef at my favorite fountain on Fifth or Madison Avenue.

I can see him now, this delicate and brilliant chemist, white jacketed behind his marble and chromium bar, his head tilted forward slightly at his ear reaches for my order. "All black, please."

"All black!" Already his hand has whisked a large-sized tumbler whose narrowed bottom involves only a minimal amount of coloring on quantity—the house percentage. Under the chocolate syrup faucet it goes. Three generous measures on the knob. See how the rich dark chocolate is lighter in tone, more fluid, better prepared for the life infusion that follows rest—the tumbler.

Solemn Moment

Here is surely the secret of this matter for the Gals of America: the genius touch of this unknown benefactor of mankind, The Master Chef, is all concentration now for this is a solemn moment, the creation of the most delicate and delicate mixture with the wistful stream of vital and living life. It is his chance to make a drink of it carefully in all points of the compass. Under the influence of the wistful stream of vital and living life, the house percentage is whisked to his hand and he is ready to make a drink of it carefully in all points of the compass.

Now the Master Chef, appearing in the kitchen, is ready to make a drink of it carefully in all points of the compass. Under the influence of the wistful stream of vital and living life, the house percentage is whisked to his hand and he is ready to make a drink of it carefully in all points of the compass.

Green Gables House

Green Gables for many years has been an unfailing point of interest for visitors to Prince Edward Island, and is now available as a tea room. Although repaired and painted, the original building has been faithfully preserved in all its details. Many other points of interest associated with the "Anne" stories, including the "Haunted Wood" and "Lovers' Lane," are easily reached by paths and trails which lead from the building.

Anne of Green Gables' Home Still Is in Existence Today

If that exceptional child of fiction, Anne of Green Gables, created in the novels of Lucy Maud Montgomery, were to return to her enchanted home in Prince Edward Island today she would find little change. Most of her old familiar haunts are still in existence. The old farm house, Green Gables, which was the home of Anne's adoptive parents, is still in existence. The house is a two-story white building with a red roof, surrounded by trees and a lawn. It is the same house that Anne lived in when she was a girl. The house is still in existence today.

Paris Remains Clothes Capital of World

PARIS, Sept. 12. — (Reuters) — "Paris remains the clothes capital of the world," dress designer Christian Dior told a group of reporters in Paris, pausing in the middle of her rounds of the fall fashion showings to testify to the fact.

Today's visit in her 10-day itinerary was to Balmain's salon after viewing the Balmain creations. Mme. Nolin said:

"I have been captivated by everything I have seen here. The fact that France, having been kept out of the fashion picture by the war for so long, could produce such wonderful things is proof that the power will be surpassed by New York or — with a smile — even Montreal."

Mme. Nolin, whose signature "Marie Poire" is familiar to clothes-conscious Canadian women, arrived last week by air with Maxime Poire, both from Montreal as representatives of the Holt Renfrew Company.

Mme. Nolin said Paris fashion was in the course of one of its periodic revolutions. "Naturally fashion change from season to season," she said. "But periodically there is some unusual big innovation. I believe this now is happening two-fold in Paris. First there is the lower hemline. But more important to me is the round shoulder. I must say I like it."

Mme. Nolin and Max Poire returned to Montreal by air Saturday. "We are opening a new autumn show with a showing in October," Mrs. Poire said. "After what we've seen the influence definitely will be Parisian."

Working Population Of Alberta Drops

OTTAWA, Sept. 13. — (CP) — Although Alberta's population has increased by about 4,500 since 1941, the number of gainfully occupied persons, 14 years of age and over, has fallen by 1,000. The dominion bureau of statistics reported Friday. The number of gainfully occupied in 1941 was 312,242. But in June this year, the figure was 302,250. Total population of the province in June was 587,345, compared with 553,648 in 1941.

There, white birch, red maple, white and black spruce, poplar, larch, balsam fir, mountain ash, and various shrubs grow abundantly in the vicinity of Green Gables and Daltry House. Wild flowers and shrubs grow in profusion and fill the air with their fragrant perfume. Indeed, Anne should find even greater interest and inspiration than ever in Green Gables and its vicinity. If she decided to play a round of golf over the famous Green Gables links she would come across many of the names which she gave to some of her favourite spots: The Haunted Wood, Dr. David's Bubble, Lake of Shining Waters—names that will live forever in the memory of those who have read the stories of the joys and sorrows, the adventures and the achievements of "one of the sweetest" creations of child life ever written.

Bolton to death was made a capital punishment in England in 1242.

the supply of boys is not equal to the demand.

However, at any rate, just in case there are a few voices left, it is a good idea for girls to check up on their technique and see where they are doing wrong.

So the very first thing to do is to have a heart-to-heart session with yourself and ask these questions:

Why Grow Old?

Even stretching, as Actress Joan Winfield is doing above, will be helpful in slowing your youth.

By Josephine Lowman
We all spend a slim waist to look attractive in the new modes. The current fashions and fads and drag-ways is emphasized. With fall winds and slims, and slims just a little ahead, it behooves us to look our figure and our clothes over with discretion.

One of the easiest ways to keep your figure is to stretch. The stretch is a simple exercise that can be done anywhere and at any time. It is a simple exercise that can be done anywhere and at any time. It is a simple exercise that can be done anywhere and at any time.

Your Baby and Mine

Allen Foster, 10 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Foster, 2702 145 Street.

When we start to write an article on sex education I wonder, to myself, what I can say that is new and different. It would seem, from my contact with groups of mothers to P.T.A. or in church study groups that all of them are concerned of the necessity of answering their children's questions about the "facts of life."

Over and over they say they have told their children about what babies come from. They have answered all subsequent questions frankly. Sometimes they admit to being stumped by the children's questions asked them, but they labor through though they do not feel their answers capable as professional.

To challenge this on the statement of authorities dealing with juvenile delinquency who state that boys and girls who get all their education about sex from their parents are less likely to be involved in a large percentage of juvenile delinquency than those who do not.

Two young lads of near twelve were recently at a school where a few boys had been caught by a teacher. The teacher had been caught by a teacher. The teacher had been caught by a teacher.

The resolution adopted "all women in affiliated societies who sincerely wish to give human greater help to the development of the human mind to the benefit of the human mind."

Princess Elizabeth to Have 10 Bridal Attendants Wedding

By MICHAEL O'HARA
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Princess Elizabeth will have 10 bridal attendants—eight bridesmaids and two flower girls—at her wedding to Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, at Buckingham Palace last night.

Her brother, Prince Michael of Kent, was five in July but he too, knows it about a wedding attendant. Having also waited on Miss Windsor at the 1946 coronation.

The senior page is Prince William of Gloucester, heir of the King's brother the Duke of Gloucester. It will be at this December and also known the royal having served as a page at a society wedding while his father and mother were at a party at the same time.

Of the interest to British women was the announcement that the bride's wedding dress and gown were made by a London dressmaker by Norman Hartnell who designed many of the gown worn by the Queen on her Canadian tour just before the war and who did the royal wardrobe for the recent South African tour.

Normandie Story: Sea Queen to Scrap Pile

Few ships have sailed so proudly, then suffered as much as the French liner Normandie. The $60,000,000 sea queen took four years to build, made her first Atlantic crossing in 1935 (top). When war came, with its submarine menace, the vessel docked in New York harbor, to be refitted as a U.S. transport ship. An accidental fire gutted the Normandie in 1942.

District Couple Wed at Andrew

ANDREW, Sept. 13.—Miss Kathleen Daniluk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Daniluk of Andrew, was married to Larry Elie Lastwak of Kabin at the United Church here recently. The Rev. Theodore Bay performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of satin with lace insets with a square neck and lilyprint sleeves and a headpiece of orange blossoms and braided satin. She carried a shaker bouquet of yellow and Tallman roses. She also wore a gold locket.

The groom, of Andrew, was Mr. William Worebata, sister of the groom. She was dressed in a gown of silk with brown accessories. Two brides attendants were pink and two were blue gowns made of nylon net. The best man was Bill Daniluk, uncle of the bride. Ushers were Bill Stratholuk, George Dorak, John Makrethuk and Andy Gorenzinski. The church was decorated with fall flowers.

Mr. Theodore Bay played the wedding march and during the signing of the register Miss Lily Ewaskuk sang "I Love You Truly." A reception was later held at the Hall where supper was served to 400 guests, after which an informal dance was held.

YOU SEE, I WAS ON THE OPPOSITE SIDE OF THE GARAGE WHEN I HEARD THE SHOT. WHEN I GOT AROUND HERE, MURPHY WAS LYING THERE DEAD AND THE DOOR WAS OPEN.

THE ASSAILANT MUST HAVE REMOVED SOMETHING FROM THE SAFE. MURPHY INTERCEPTED — AND BINGO!

DID YOU SEARCH THIS GARAGE CAREFULLY?

COVERED IT COMPLETELY, TRACY. THERE'S NOTHING BACK THERE BUT SOME CARS, AN OLD GREASE PIT, AND SOME EMPTY OIL DRUMS.

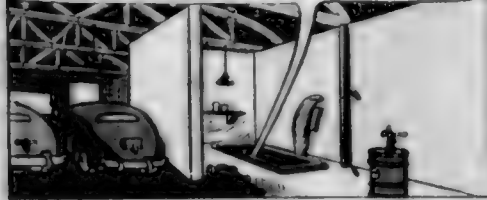

THOSE HEEL MARKS OF A WOMAN'S SHOE COULD BELONG TO ONLY ONE PERSON, AUTUMN HEWS. SHE'S OUR QUARRY.

I'M PICKING UP THIS ENTIRE PATCH OF CAKED GREASE, TRACY.

ONE HOUR LATER—AFTER ALL IS QUIET IN THE GARAGE, LET US TAKE A LOOK AT THE GREASE PIT.

IF ONLY I HAD RUN OUT OF THE GARAGE INSTEAD OF RUNNING BACK HERE AND LEAPING IN THE PIT!

THEY MUST BE GONE—I CAN'T HEAR A SOUND.

THIS PAIR OF COVERALLS FELL ON ME AND PARTIALLY HID ME. ANYWAY, THEY JUST COULDN'T IMAGINE A WOMAN BEING DOWN IN THESE CRANK-CASE DRIPPINGS.

THE BAG OF MONEY IS SOAKED WITH OIL—I'M SOAKED WITH OIL! WHAT CAN I DO?

HOW CAN I LEAVE HERE WITHOUT MAKING A SPECTACLE OF MYSELF. HOW—EH?

THAT'S IT—THE COVERALLS! IN THE DARKNESS NO ONE WILL KNOW THE DIFFERENCE.

STILL LATER. AND THIS OLD TIRE CASING—I WON'T HAVE TO CARRY THE BAG.

DROP BY DROP

IT'S often hard to get the Dunce to do his share of the Teenie Weenie work. He isn't lazy, but he is what the General calls a "retard." He hates to do things in the regular way. He would grumble if he were told to sweep the kitchen floor with a Teenie Weenie broom, but he'd be delighted to do the same work with a tooth brush. So the General had no objections when the Dunce asked permission to use the Teenie Weenie fire extinguisher in emptying the swimming pool.

The old sauce dish which the little people use for a swimming pool has to be emptied each Autumn and covered during the Winter. If water should freeze in the dish it might crack it and then the Teenie Weenies would have no swimming pool. It is hard work to empty the dish, for the water has to be bailed out with thimbles. The little men usually put off the task as long as possible, but the Teenie Weenies who had been told to do the work were eager for the job when the Dunce suggested the idea of emptying the dish with the medicine dropper which the Teenie Weenies use for a fire extinguisher.

Having hit upon the idea of using the fire extinguisher, the Dunce insisted on handling it. He stood on the diving board, dipped the end of the dropper into the pool and drew in some water. Then he lifted it over the top of the dish and squeezed the water out into a thimble on the ground below. This the Sailor and the Turk carried off and dumped near by. This was mighty slow work because a medicine dropper can only suck up eight or nine drops of water each time and it takes 29 drops to fill a thimble. There were over 200 thimbles of water in the pool and the water line was dropping too slowly for the impatient Dunce. "This is mighty slow work," he grumbled. "I wish we could get a dog to come along and drink up the rest of this water."

"Lawsy!" put in Gogo. "We all could get that water out faster if we took to bailin'."

"Believe you're right," agreed the Dunce.

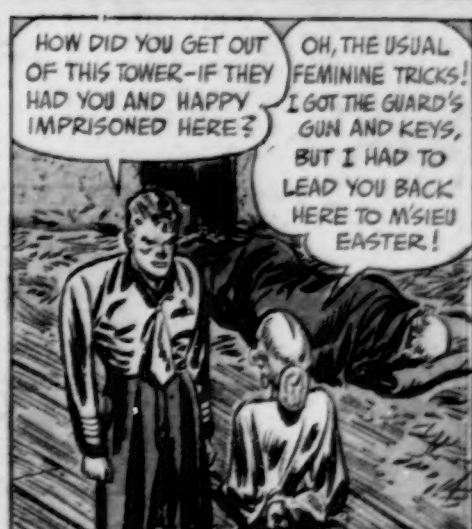

The Sailor fixed up a stout string with hooks on it which could be easily attached to the string handles on the thimbles. Two of the men drew up the water in thimbles and lowered them to the ground below, where other teenies carried them off. The work went much faster that way and the Dunce admitted that a medicine dropper might make a good Teenie Weenie fire extinguisher but it wasn't nearly as practical for emptying a swimming pool as the old-fashioned thimble.
